...A WAY TO GIVE AND TO RECEIVE®

Floyd and Windy Webb are the proud owners of Seniors Helping Seniors Kingwood, where they share a joint passion for serving older adults and strengthening their community through compassionate care. Seniors Helping Seniors Kingwood has become known for pairing seniors in need with active, compassionate senior caregivers who provide assistance with companionship, meal preparation, light housekeeping, transportation, and personal care—always with a warm, family-centered approach.

Windy serves as the Agency Administrator, bringing together her clinical expertise as a Registered Nurse and her lifelong dedication to helping seniors live with independence, dignity, and joy. With a deep understanding of the challenges families face when seeking care for their loved ones, she ensures that each client receives thoughtful, personalized support.

Floyd Webb manages the administrative and operational aspects of the agency, supporting its growth and long-term vision. A Mechanical Engineer with an MBA, Floyd brings a strong background in business strategy and a desire to build something meaningful within the community. His leadership and organizational expertise play a key role in maintaining the agency's efficiency and excellence.

Kingwood residents for more than a decade, the Webbs have been married for 25 years and are proud parents of two children—Emma, a student at Texas A&M University and Noah, a student at Kingwood High School. Deeply rooted in their community and share a love for service, especially through short-term mission trips to Rwanda, where they joyfully share the Gospel and support local families. When at home, Windy enjoys crafting with seniors and volunteering locally, continuing her mission to bring care and connection to those around her.
