Russell Klein is a Certified Aging-in-Place Specialist and the founder of RK Media Services. Known to many through his earlier work in building accessibility and fall-prevention education, he now focuses on a closely related challenge: helping older adults navigate modern technology with clarity and confidence.

Drawing on a background in public speaking, instructional design, and community engagement, Russell provides patient, hands-on guidance that reduces frustration and builds practical skill.

Today, he partners with senior living communities and caregiving professionals to deliver workshops and one-on-one support designed to meet people where they are—and prepare them for what's next.
